Welcome to our church today.

TODAY'S READINGS

Isaiah 6:1-8

The angel's words experienced by the prophet in the Temple at Jerusalem have become some of the most solemn in Christian worship. After all, we long to be united with the worship of heaven and to give ourselves in love to God. It is a picture above all of holiness, the sense of God's 'otherness', that puts us in our little place and reduces us to silence before him.

Luke 5:1-11

Mysteriously, Jesus calls whom he will and does it so wonderfully as to convey his unique role. Peter is humbled and responds in penitence. It is a picture of how coming to faith might be, in its essence, for any of us.

David and Sarah Baskerville would very much like to thank everyone for the most touching send off on 20th January. It was good to see so many in church and to hear Mike's kind words as well as to have a little celebration laid on too! Thank you for the lovely Scilly Isles narcissi, the wine and a card full of nice messages. We shall miss Compton! Do please keep in touch. With very best wishes, Sarah and David. 41 King Street, Emsworth PO10 7AT 01243 681169
